spirit, for the sufferings of the saints by reason of her cruelties and abominations, and the filthiness of her fornications. Under the burthen of god's wrath against the present rulers, priests, and people of England, that repent not, and give glory to god ; that have drunk her cup, and refuse to come out of her at god's call, but remain in the false church and worship still, that's not taught god's spirit. With a warning to all such that they prepare to meet the lord in the way of his judgments ; and as they have partaken with her in her sins, that they expect also to partake of her plagues which are ready to be poured forth from the lord god who is mighty, that judgeth her, and will certainly avenge the blood of the martyrs on her ; for Babylon's destruction is god's determination in England and the world. Behold your day is passed, and the night cometh, and god's fulfilling day draweth nigh. Therefore let all the lord's people hasten out of Babylon, in which all men are that follow not the light of the lamb, that are 1.L 't guided and led by the present teachings of god's spirit, and let them that are faithful in the land, be faithful stil to follow the lamb withersoever he goes ; for it's given to him and his followers to overcome.

Written by one that travels in spirit for Sion's deliverance.

— A Visitation in Love, to those of the people called Baptists, with whom the Lord's Spirit yet ceaseth not to strive, that have not slain the witness, by making war, and contending against the Light, who although they may think themselves rich, and increased with much goods, yet are found to be wretched and miserable, poor, and blind, and naked, &c. : by one who travails in spirit for their souls good.

the Lord, &c., which they so often in words have prayed for and desired, as may appear by the ensuing Relation, and Collection out of the Book of Common Prayer, compared with the principle and practice of the people called Quakers. And let them read it in moderation, and mark and consider it well ; for it is a serious Invitation to them all, from the Lord. And henceforth cease to persecute the Quakers, for the practice of these things, which they so often pray for ; and not to mock God, to pray for that which they themselves will not receive and obey, and so condemn themselves in that which they allow. And let them also consider how in dayes past the Jews (when Christ came) were in earnest expectation, and desired his coming, and yet when he was come, they persecuted him, and would not receive him : So now many pray for the Grace and Spirit of God, and yet resist it as it comes, and persecute them that have received it, and do obey it, and bring forth the fruits thereof, and worship God according to his own Institutions in spirit and in truth, for which we ought not to be questioned or persecuted ; for the service of God is perfect Freedom ; and he expects to have the free exercise of our hearts and minds therein ; and who shall gainsay him and prosper.

AUDLAND, ANNE. A true declaration of the suffering of the innocent, who is hated and persecuted without a cause. Wherein is discovered the seale of the magistrates and people of Banbury persecuting and imprisoning them that are sent of the lord in love to their souls to warn them of the evill of their wayes. Declared in a letter sent to William Allen called Justice of the Peace ; with an answer to the false accusation charged upon the innocent. Also their proceedings laid opened and proved to be contrary to the scriptures. By Anne Audland whom the world scornfully calls Quaker. (March 1654.) 4to., 1655.

AUDLAND, JOHN. The innocent delivered out of the snare and the blind guide fallen into the pit ; or, an address to a booke entitled, " The Great Mysteries of Godliness and Ungodliness, full of Lies, Slanders, and false accusations : Put forth by Ralph Farmer, a pretended minister in the City of Bristol, against those innocent, peaceable, despised people scornfully called Quakers, wherein John Thurloe, Secretary of State, to whom R. Farmer's Book was directed, may read the answer wherein their false accusations are made manifest," &c., &c. By a servant of the Lord called John Audland.

Whereunto is added an answer to a scandalous paper put forth by William Prynne, intituled, The Quaker unmasked, and clearly detected ; wherein his slanders are made to appear and he is clearly unmasked and plainly detected, being taken with a lye in his mouth, &c. BANKS, JOHN (Street). The Blessed Effects of True and Saving Faith : with Good Counsel, Wholesome Advice ; and also Encouragement to all Friends every where, that Suffer for Truth and Righteousness Sake.

Given forth by a Servant of the Lord, who is in a travail for the prosperity of Sion and that Jerusalem may become the Praise of the whole Earth, known by the name of John Banckes. 4to., 1684.

— An Exhortation to Friends, to keep in remembrance and prize the former mercies, blessings, favours and deliverances received from the Lord. With a warning also to beware of the enemies workings, by careless security, and fleshly ease, in this day of so large Liberty, and Freedom given, or suffered to come to pass, upon the account of Meeting, Worshipping, and Serving of God. By a Servant of Christ, John Bancks. 4to., 1687.

— An Epistle to Friends, shewing, the great Difference between a Convinced Estate and a Converted Estate ; and between the Profession of the Truth, and the possession thereof ; with the Comfort and Sweetness to the Soul it affordeth. With a few words of good counsel and wholesome advice both to Parents and their children. 4to., 1692. 4to., 1693. 4to., 1696.

— A General Epistle to the Flock of God, but more particularly in Cumberland, in the openings of love, and fresh spring of life, am I drawn forth to visit you with this Epistle. (Given forth at Meare in Somersetshire, the 23rd day of the 5th month, 1698.) 4to. (1698).

— A General Epistle to Friends to be read in all your Monthly and other Meetings where this may come. Given forth at Street in Somerset-shire the 4th of the 7th month 1708.

7pp. 4to., 1708.

— A Gentle Correll ion for Singers : such as pretend to sing David's Psalms : and whether your conditions be the same as David's was, that you sing : and whether you witness the same, yea or nay. With Councel and Advice for you to Learn, if you will, what it is to Mourn and Weep for sin, before you presume to sing as you have done, and do, in the time of your professed Worshipping and Serving of God ; for you to lay to Heart and consider, whether what you sing, and make so great a noise of, (and so often too) be true or false, right or wrong, yea or nay. Dated, Meare 1704. 4to., 1709.

Reprinted in his Journal.

8vo., 1712.

BANKS, JOHN. To live well, is the way to die well ; and to live well, is to do well. As the Lord said unto Cain, Gen. iv., 7. And to live well is to live the life of holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord. Heb. xii., 14.

And as said the blessed Apostle Paul, C al. ii., 20. And they that thus live well and do well, shall die w, Jll, even in the true and saving faith of our Lord Jesus Christ. Rev. xiv., 13.

This is given forth in love to the souls of all professors of Religion, Christianity, and Faith in Christ, under what name, denomination or form soever, for you to consider and lay to heart, while you have yet a little time, what manner of life it is you live ; whether the life of purity and holiness, or sin and unrighteousness ; for the one brings to die well, but the other miserably. For though the wicked may lament in hell, as Dives did, after death no remission of sin is there. Luke xvi., 22, 23, 24, &c.

From a faithful and true witness of what it is to live well, in order to die well, John Banks.

Given forth at Street 1709. 4to. (1709).

Reprinted in his Journal. 8vo., 1712.

— A rebuke to unfaithful parents and a rod for stubborn children (with encouragement to the faithful, both parents and children) : viz., i. Such parents as profess the way and truth of God but are careless, negligent, and unconcerned in the performance and discharge of their duty in not endeavouring to subject their children while they are young and under their government. And ii. Such children that are stubborn and will not obey their parents though they use their endeavour to subject them.

The author hereof desires this may be read in the families of Friends and diligently observed and practised.

Given forth at Street in Somersetshire, 13th of the tenth month. 16pp. 4to., 1710.

8vo., 1728.

—— The scripture chronology demonstrated by astronomical calculations, and also by the year of jubilee, and the sabbatical year among the Jews ; or, an account of time from the creation of the world to the destruction of Jerusalem ; as it may be proved from the writings of the Old and New Testament. In a method hitherto unattempted ; and which was first proposed by the learned Archbishop Usher. In which the Hebrew text is vindicated ; and the objections against it, as consisting of many mutilations and numerical alterations, are occasionally considered, and the authority of the Samaritan and Septuagint versions, in opposition to the original copy, is confuted. Together with the history of the world, from the creation to the time when Dr. Prideaux began his connexion. Illustrated with a great variety of tables, maps, and copper plates. fol., 1730.

—— Observations on a sermon preach'd before the corporation of Bristol on Sunday the sixteenth day of August 1735 being the day before the assizes. (Anon.) 8vo., 1736.

As also an appendix being a reply to some objections made on the sermon aforesaid in the Bibliotheque Britannique for the months of July, August, and September, 1736, printed at the Hague. By the author of the sermon (A. S. Catcott).

8vo., Bristoll, 1737.

—— An examination of Mr. Hutchinson's remarks and Mr. Catcott's answer to the observations on his sermon preached before the corporation of Bristol, in which the pernicious consequence of their notions to all revealed religion, together with their pride and uncharitableness is fully shewn ; the integrity of the Hebrew text is so proved that no one in this age ought to presume to make any alterations ; and the authority of the Masorites in adding of vowels and accents to the consonants is vindicated. By the author of the observations. (A. Bedford.)

BERNARD, JOHN. A short view of the prelatical Church of England laid open in ten sections by way of quere and petition to the high and honourable court of Parliament, the severall heads whereof are set down in the next two pages. Written a little before the fall of that hierarchie about the year 1641 by John Bernard, sometimes minister of Batcomb in Somersetshire. Whereunto is added, the anatomy of Common Prayer.

This tract was first published in 4to. anonymously, in 1641, entitled :-

A short view of the praelatical Church of England, wherein is set forth the horrible abuses in discipline and government, layd open in ten sections by way of quaere and petition to the high and honourable court of Parliament, the severall heads whereof are set downe in the next two pages. Newly corrected with additions ; together with a short draught of church government.

Reprinted as above after a lapse of twenty years, some words the original title being omitted, the editor either wrongly attributes the authorship to Bernard, minister of Batcombe, or gives him a wrong christian name. The subject matter was not likely to come from Richard Bernard in 1641. It may have been by a John Bernard a Presbyterian, who printed a small 8vo. tract in 1645, entitled :-

The Independents catechisme or some observations gathered out of Dr. Bastwicke his religious and learned treatise entitvled, Independency not God's ordinance. For the use of all poor, ignorant, wavering, and seduced Independents. By John Bernard, Philopresbuter.

BERNARD, RICHARD (rector of Batcombe 1613). The faithfvll shepherd : or the shepheards faithfulnessse : wherein is for the matter largely, but for the maner in few words, set forth the excellencie and necessitie of the ministerie ; a ministers properties and dutie ; his entrance into this function and charge ; how to begin fitly to instruct his people ; catechising and preaching ; and a good plaine order and method therein : not so as yet published. Very profitable both for young students who intend the studie of theologie (heerein being also declared what arts and tongues first to be learned, what kinde of authours to be read, and books necessarie in the beginning, and which in the first place,) as also for such ministers as yet have not attained to a distinct order to studie, write, meditate, and to preach methodically, both for their better course in delivering the Word, and the peoples understanding in hearing and memorie in reteining the same.

Amended and enlarged, &c., 1609. By R. B., preacher of God's Word at Worsop in Nottinghamshire.

BERNARD, RICHARD. Christian advertisements and counsels of peace : also dissuasions from the Separatist's Schisme commonly called Brownisme which is set apart from such truths as they take from vs and other reformed churches and is nakedly discovered that so the falsitie thereof may better be discerned and so iustly condemned and wisely auoided. Published for the benefit of the humble and goodlie lover of the trueth.

- BRADDON, LAURENCE. Essex's innocency and honour vindicated : or, murther, subornation, perjury, and oppression, justly charg'd on the murtherers of that noble lord and true patriot, Arthur (late) Earl of Essex. As proved before the right honourable (late) committee of Lords, or ready to be deposed. In a letter to a friend.
 Written by Lawrence Braddon, (of the Middle Temple) gent, who was upwards of five years prosecuted or imprisoned, for endeavouring to discover this murther the third day after the same was committed.
 Engraved front., showing the murder. Printed for the author.
 No. printer. 4to., 1690.
- Bishop Burnet's late history charged with great partiality and misrepresentations to make the present and future ages believe that Arthur Earl of Essex in 1683 murdered himself.
 But the memory of the great patriot is here vindicated from that false charge and it's here prov'd that his lordship was barbarously murder'd in the Tower the third morning after his commitment. And Mr. Braddon in 1683 was prosecuted and fin'd two thousand pounds and order'd to give security for his good behaviour during life for endeavouring by lawful means to discover this murder, and he was imprison'd near five years before the Revolution discharg'd him. And in 1688 and '89 Mr.
 Braddon prosecuted that inquiry before a secret (sic) committee of Lords and near sixty, witnesses were examin'd in relation to that murder and an abstract of their examinations is here reprinted, with remarks thereupon. And the reason given why the lords upon those examinations came to no resolution in relation to the manner of his lordship's death. With observations upon the suppos'd poisoning of King Charles the Second and one of the most probable causes thereof is here mention'd.

BURGES, CORNELIUS (D.D.). See Civil War. 1645.

——— A letter from Utercht to the assembly of divines at Westminster shewing the conversion of church lands to lay uses to be condemned by Luther, Calvin, Knox, and the whole assemblage of Scotch divines as a detestable sacrilege before God and provoking his heavy judgments. Sent in a letter to Dr. Burges in June last to be presented. From Clement Spelman. A copy whereof coming accidentally to the hands of W. B. was by him commended to the presse. 4to., 1648.

——— A case concerning the buying of bishops' lands with the lawfulness thereof between the contractors for sale of those lands and the corporation of Wells. Ordered anno 1650 to be reported to the then Parliament ; with the necessity thereof, since fallen upon Dr. Corn. Burges. 4to., 1659.

——— No sacrilege nor sinne to aliene or purchase the land of, bishops, or others, whose offices are abolished. 2nd edit., revised and enlarged. 8vo., 1659.

——— Certain reasons taken out of Dr. Burgess his case concerning the buying of bishops' lands, which are as full and directly against tythes, as to what he applied them. Likewise a query to William Prynne. By Jno. Canne. 4to., 1659.
This is in a tract against tithes, by John Osborne.

——— An answer to Dr. Burgess's book, entituled : A case concerning the buying bishops' lands, &c., and about tythes, &c. — By George Fox. 4to., 1659.

——— No sacrilege nor sin to alienate or purchase cathedral lands as such ; or, a vindication of, not only the late purchasers, but of the antient nobility and gentry ; yea, of the Crown itself, all deeply wounded by the false charge of sacrilege upon new purchasers. The third edition, revised and abbreviated for the service of the Parliament ; with a postscript to Dr. Pearson.

——— Antisacrilegus ; or a defensative against the plausible pest or guilded poyson, of that nameless paper, (supposed to be the plot of Dr. C. Burges and his partners,) which tempts the King's Majestie by the offer of five hundred thousand pounds, to make CATON, WILLIAM (Quaker). Truths caracter of professors and their teachers. Which by looking through, may bring to their remembrance the dayes of old, and how it was then with them, which may evidently shew unto them what hath befallen them since they degenerated from the measure of God, which some of them had in them : And it may also put them in mind of God's justice and severity towards them. Here is also something in answer to some remarkable particulars, which were extracted out of above thirty addresses which were presented to Richard Cromwell when he was Protector, and were published to the nation in the Diurnals, as one by Tho. Goodwin, by the appointment of the officers and messengers of above a hundred Congregational churches, and others from some of the churches of the baptized people, but the most of them were from the parochial priests and others that joyned with them, from most of the counties in the nation, whereby their hypocrisie and deceit, their folly and flatteries are made palpably manifest, to their shame and confusion of face.

COLLENS, JOHN (Quaker). A message from the Spirit of the Lord to the people call'd anabaptists, and to the rest of the sects who are scattered up and down these nations and in the army, that they may read and consider why the Lord's controversie is against them, and that they may understand what the Lord's purpose is concerning them. 4to., 1660.

—— A word in season to all in authority. With weighty considerations what persons, practices, and things, doth chiefly cause division and contention, rending of kingdoms, and distresse of nations. As also a plain discovery of those things and that ministry, that will bring blessings and unity, with deliverance from bondage, into liberty ; and instead of strife, wars, and fightings, righteousness, reconciliation and peace, in the land of our nativity. Published by a lover of truth and the kingdoms peace, J. C.

The conclusion is signed, J. A. (Jno. Anderdon). 4to., 1660.

—— A touch stone, whereby the protestant religion as it stands at this day in England may be tried. That in the light of Christ people of all sorts may see the degeneration and great apostacy which these last dayes and perillous times have produced. And by comparing the present apostatized state of the protestant church with the scriptures of truth, and its state in the primitive purity thereof, every capacity may comprehend how miserably it is corrupted in all its ordinances, order, and discipline, and how it differs from the christian church and religion, and is become one with the church of Rome in very many particulars. Also it may appear hereby that the people called Quakers are the true protestants in practice and principle. And this is written that the good people of this nation may not be deceived with reprobate silver instead of gold tryed in the fire. By a friend to all that love pure religion and follow after righteousness, J. C. 18pp. 4to., 1660.

The preface, 9pp., unpagcd, is signed, Thos. Salthouse.

— Something written after the manner a discourse or dialogue betwixt a rigid presbyterian and good conscience, which begins to be roused up and awaken'd these trying times. 8vo., 1662.

COLLIER, THOMAS (Westbury). The heads and substance of a discourse, first private and afterwards publike, held at Axbridge in the county of Somerset, about the 6th of March 1650. Between John Smith of Badgworth, and Charls Carlile of Bitsham &c. on the one part, and Thomas Collier (Baptist) of Westbury on the other. Things they are of weight and highest concernment. Published by the said Thomas Collier of Westbury. sm. 8vo., 1651.

— A dialogue between a minister of the gospel and an enquiring christian, about the authority of the scriptures and the principles of the Quakers. 1656.

— A looking glasse for the Quakers, wherein they may behold themselves : and others also may behold their pernicious ways. Or, deceit returned upon the deceivers' heads. Being an answer to James Naylor's pretended answer to Thomas Collier's book, called, a dialogue between a minister and a christian. Wherein the truths asserted in that dialogue are clearly proved ; and James Naylor and the Quakers are proved to be the liers and deceivers ; and so indeed they have made lies their refuge, and under falsehood have they hid themselves. Here is likewise a relation of James Naylor's exaltation in the west, where the Quakers proclaimed him Christ, but have now found a Christ without them.

(Taunton, Glastonbury, Wells.) 4to., 1657.

— The line of true judgment : laid to an imperfect piece published by Thomas Collier, which he calls, An answer to an epistle written to the churches of the anabaptists, &c. A reply herein is published in order to the exaltation of the spiritual man, with his ordinances and administrations, above the man of sin, with the weak and unprofitable ordices (sic) that doth not make the comers thereunto perfect. (From Ivelchester 12 day of the i month, 1658.) cu. - 4to., 1658.

There is a postscript :—

A lamentation taken up for the church of the anabaptists by

John Collens with a call and warning for them to come out of the self separation, into the footsteps of the flock, and to turn from the darknessto the true light.

—— An answer to an epistle, written to the churches of the anabaptists, &c. (see, Salthouse, Thos.). 1658.

—— The hypocrasie of Thomas Salthouse, discovered, a noted Quaker ; in vindication of a former book written by Thomas Collier. 1659, COLLINGWOOD, MARY. The lover's warning-piece : or a terrible example to all rash wishers and vow breakers.

Being a true relation of the miserable end of one Mrs. Mary Collingwood, near Wells in Somersetshire, with a lamentable account how she utterly forswore herself in making a promise to one Mr. John Elms, who courted her.

Showing how he drowned himself the day day (sic) she was married to another and how his ghost appeared to her several times.

With an account how she was delivered of a strange and frightful monster, in the shape of a hog with cloven feet over grown with hair, with large staring eyes dreadful to behold.

Together with her deplorable death and the sad example she made. Woodcuts. 8pp. sm. 8vo., n.d.

CORYATE, GEORGE (rector of Odcombe). Posthuma fragmenta poemata Georgii Coryati, Sarisburiensis, sacra theologiae Baccalaurei, quondam e Sociis Novi Collegii in inclyta Academia Oxoniensi ac postea ecclesiae Odcombiensis in agro Somersetensi ministri, vbi tandem anno i 606, extremum vitae diem clausit.

In the Crudities. 1611. unpagd. 4to., 1611.
8vo., 1776.

——— Descriptio Angliae et descriptio Londini : being two poems in Latin verse supposed to be written in the xvth (xvi) century. (Wells and Wookey are mentioned.) 4to., 1763.

CORYATE, THOMAS. Coryat's crudities hastily gobbled up in five moneths travells in France, Savoy, Italy, Rhetia commonly called Grisons country, Helvetia alias Switzerland, and some parts of High Germany and the Netherlands ; newly digested in the hungry aire of Odcombe in the county of Somerset and now dispersed to the nourishment of the travelling members of this kingdome.

This title is engraved. A second printed title reads :-

Three crvde veines are presented in this book, following (besides the foresaide crudities no lesse flowing in the body of the book, then the crudities themselves), two of rhetoricke and one of poesie. That is to say a most elegant oration, first written in the Latine tongue by Hermannus Kirchnerus, a ciuill lawyer, oratour, Caesarean poet, and professor of eloquence and antiquities in the famous Vniversitie of Marpurg in the Landgrauat of Hessia, in praise of trauell in generall. Now distilled into English spirit through the Odcombian Limbecke. This precedeth the crvdities. Another also compiled by the author of the former in praise of trauell of Germanie in particular sublimed and brought over the Helme in Stillitone of the said trauelling Thomas. This about the center or nauell of the crudities. Then in the posterne of them looke, and thou shalt find the posthume poems of the author's father, comming as neere kinsman to the worke, being next of blood to the books and younger brothers to the author himselfe. 4to., 1611.

The work begins with some panegyric verses, without pagination, viz. :

Distich on the frontispiece, by B. Jonson. Three leaves.

^{Character} of the author. Three leaves.

Verses on the author's name, by B. Jonson. One leaf,

Dedication to Henry, Prince of Wales, with plate. Six leaves.

Epistle to the reader. Seven leaves.

Introduction to the ensuing verses. Two leaves.

Panegyric verses on the author. Fifty-four leaves.

Oration in praise of travel. Seventeen leaves.

Whitaker's elogie. Three leaves.

Text, 665 pages :—between p.: 364-5, " about the center," occurs another oration in praise of Germany, 22 pages not numbered: and between pp. 394-5 are several epistles of the author to celebrated Zurich reformers, 22 pages not numbered. '-

After the table, eight leaves, " in the posterne," comes the :-
Posthuma fragmenta poemata Georgii Coryati, ecclesi Odcombiensis in agro Somersetensi ministri, &c. Sixteen leaves without pagination.

At the end are two 'Setters, not paged, relating to errata.

DAVISSON, JOHN. A vindication of the protestant mission ; wherein is proved, both from scripture and reason, and the practice of the primitive churches, that the christian people have sufficient authority from Christ to choose their own ministers ; and that no man, or set of men, have any authority from Christ to call, constitute and impose ministers on them without their previous knowledge and consent. And that the pretence of an uninterrupted succession of priestly authority derived from the apostles in a direct line through the church of Rome is a mere juggle and a piece of popish priestcraft to awe the vulgar, to make and keep them bigots to themselves. Being a sermon preach'd at Taunton, to an assembly of protestant divines, June 7, 1720.

2nd edit., corrected. 8vo., 1720.

—— A defence of the protestant minister's mission ; showing that 'tis the right of all christian churches to chuse their own ministers ; and that the popish pretence of a regular, uninterrupted succession from the Apostle Peter thro' the church of Rome is a groundless fancy, which can never be proved ; and therefore no way necessary to render any ministerial authority regular, or administration valid. —— The charge of the archdeacon of Taunton, May, 1857. 8vo., Taunton, 1857.

—— The public sin of the Divorce Act. A sermon preached in the Cathedral church of St. Andrew, Wells, on Sunday, November 8th, 1857. 8vo., 1857.

—— The martyrs' candle ; what is to become of it ? A review of the work of the Rev. W. Goode ; and the sermons of archdeacon Denison on the doctrine of the real presence ; reprinted from the " Christian Observer " for January, 1857. 8vo., 1857.

—— A word for the truth, for the church, and for God. An address to the clergy on the present controversy, in which the points at issue are fully stated and the doctrines involved are theologically considered. By R. Aitken, incumbent of Pendeen, Cornwall. 8vo., Oxford, 1857.

—— The Denison case and the xxxix Articles, or the relative authority of the doctrinal formulæ of the Church of England. The creeds, articles, and homilies, their origin, authority, and interpretation, severally and relatively. A proof from these and other sources that the Thirty-nine Articles cannot be the sole or chief standard of doctrine, and that they not only admit, but suggest, a catholic interpretation. With some remarks on subscription. By T. Todd, rector of Trinity, Hulme. 8vo., 1857.

5490 — Anti-Martinus ; or, a chancellor not necessarily an " eminent divine," a safe counsellor, or an impartial judge. 8vo. (1857).

EVANS, KATHARINE (Inglescombe). This is a short relation of some of the cruel sufferings, for the truth's sake, of Katharine Evans and Sarah Cheevers in the inquisition in the isle of Malta, who have suffered there above three years by the pope's authority there to be detained till they dye. Which relation of their sufferings is come from their own hands and mouths as doth appear by the following treatise.

These two daughters of Abraham were passing to Alexandria and to Cilicia and thus may that part of Christendom see their fruits, together with the pope's, and of what birth they are ; and that those that are called christians are worse than heathens : For they falling into their hands should have been refreshed by them with necessary things, but the provision which the inhabitants and knights of Malta (called christians) provided for them is the inquisition. Now it was not so when Paul suffered shipwreck there among the barbarous people ; which is a manifest token they are not in the love of God, whose fruits shew they are not in the true spirit. And this is to all fellow brethren that are partakers with them in the power of God and have a feeling and fellowship with them in their sufferings, that they might see and know how it is with them that profess themselves christians. 4to., 1662.

Reprinted as :—A true account of the great tryals and cruel sufferings, &c. 8vo., 1663.

——— A brief discovery of God's eternal truth ; and a way open'd to the simple-hearted, whereby they may come to know Christ and his ministers, from antichrist and his ministers, with a warning from the Lord, to all people, that do name the name of Christ, to depart from iniquity. 8vo., 1663:

Reprinted in :—A brief history of the voyage of Katharine Evans to Malta, &c. 12M0., 1715.

——— A brief history of the voyage of Katharine Evans and Sarah Cheevers to the island of Malta where the apostle Paul suffer'd shipwreck : and their cruel sufferings in the inquisition there for near four years ; occasion'd by the malice of the monks and friers against them, and their several conferences with them : and how they came to be deliver'd from thence and their safe return home to England. 121110., 1715.

____ The west country farmer, or a fair representation of the decay of trade and badness of the times ; in a letter of complaint from a tenant in the country to his landlord in London.
(Anon.) (By Francis Squire).

50 pp. (W. Norris.) 12mo., Taunton ().

____ The west country farmer. (Number 2). Consisting of three parts. 1. The landlord's answer to his tenant's complaint, wherein he objects to the farmer's arguments, blames the conduct of the country in several particulars, but yet promises for the future to be their friend and advocate. 2. The farmer's reply, in which the errors of his brethren are excused, their honesty and loyalty defended, their interest farther asserted and maintained, with some hints of expedients that would be serviceable to them and the whole kingdom. 3. The postscript to the farmers themselves exhorting them to put a due value on their persons and possessions to judge for themselves and assist their true liberty and not be seduced and beguiled by crafty and designing men. Signed—Ofellus (i.e., Francis Squire.).

FARMER, RALPH (minister of St. Nicholas, Bristol). Sathan inthron'd in his chair of pestilence, or, quakerism in its exaltation.
Being a true narrative and relation of the manner of James Nailer (that eminent Quaker's) entrance into the city of Bristoll the 24 day of October, 1656. With one man going bare headed before him ; and two women, one on one side, another on the other side of his horse, holding the reines, and leading him.
Singing, Hosannah, and Holy, holy, holy, Lord God of Israel.
Together with some blasphemous letters found about him, with their examinations thereupon, in this city, and other considerable passages and observations. Whereto is added a vindication of the magistrates and inhabitants of this city in reference to the nestling of these Quakers amongst us. With a declaration of the occasion of the rise and growth of them in this city. Collected and published by Ra. Farmer, a servant of (and hopes to be saved by), that Jesus Christ Who was crucified at Jerusalem

FARMER, RALPH. The imposter dethron'd, or, the Quakers throne of truth detected to bee Satan's seat of lyes. By way of reply to a quaking and railing pamphlet, written by capt. Bishop, entitled : -The throne of truth exalted over the powers of darknesse. Wherein is briefly hinted the rottenness of the Quakers conversion and perfection in general, exemplified in this busie bishop ; in special instanced in his practises against the estate of the lord Craven, life of Mr. Love. By occasion whereof the truth is asserted, viz. : If we may judge of the conscience, honesty, and perfection of Quakers in general, by this man in particular, a man may bee as vile a person as any under heaven, and yet a perfect Quaker.

By Ralph Farmer, a servant of that Jesus Christ Who was crucified at Jerusalem above sixteen hundred years ago, and Whose blood the Quakers trample under foot as a common thing. Published according to order. 4to., 1658.

In a letter to Mr. William Watts, merchant, master of the academy in Poland street, near Soho square, London. 8vo., Bristol, 1750.
- FORD ABBEY. The Ford abbey estate, &c. Particulars of one of the most magnificent freehold investments throughout England, and in the description that necessarily must follow, Mr. Robins, without the slightest affectation, proclaims that he approaches the task with fear and trembling. . . The abbey has ever maintained its proud superiority over every other monastery in England. It is a splendidly grand and unique building. Its classic front extends to near 300 feet. It is indeed the great leviathan of the west, &c. The first impression on beholding this ancient and classic pile can never be obliterated from memory, &c. The taste of the monks in selecting the good things of this world was never questioned, even the fat of the land was never accounted too good for their refined taste. The river Axe winds in serpentine beauty through the fair demesne. It was here that
The branching stag swept down with all his herd,
To quaff a brook which murmured like a bird.
It may still be asked : " What more can mortals now desire ? " The monk's celebrated walk is in high preservation, and to omit a panegyric upon the ancient tapestry would approach sacrilege. The tenantry are respectable and without one guinea of arrear, &c. Plan. fol., 1846.
- FORD, JOHN (vicar of Combe St. Nicholas). A caution against modern liberalism. FOWLER, CHRISTOPHER. A sober answer to an angry epistle, directed to all the publick teachers in this nation, and prefixed to a book called (by an antiphrasis) Christs innocency pleaded against the cry of the chief priests. Written in haste by Thomas Speed, once a publick teacher himself, and since revolted from that calling to merchandize, and of late grown a merchant of soules, trading subtilly for the Quakers in Bristoll. Wherein the jesuitical equivocations and subtle insinuations, whereby he endeavours secretly to infuse the whole venom of quaking doctrines unto undiscerning readers, are discovered : a catalogue of the true and genuine doctrines of the Quaker is presented, and certaine questions depending between us and them candidly disputed. • By Christopher Fowler and Simon Ford, ministers of the gospel in Reding. 4to., 1656.

FULLWOOD, " FRANCIS (minister of the gospel at Staple Fitzpane). Vindiciae mediorum et mediatoris. Or, the present reigning error arraigned at the barr of scripture and reason. Wherein is discovered the falshood and danger of that late borne opinion that pretends to an immediate enjoyment and call of the spirit of God, both above and against its owne effects, cause, word, ministry and witness, in all respects. Occasioned by a pamphlet intituled, the saints travell to the land of Canaan, or a discovery of seventeen false rests, &c., by one R. Wilkinson, a preacher of this error, about Totnes in the west. In the treatise following the reader shall finde, most of the maine fundamentall doctrinal truths that this age doth controvert, faithfully vindicated, cleared, confirmed.

_____ The churches and ministry of England, true churches and true ministry. Cleared and proved in a sermon preach'd the 4th of May at Wiviliscombe, before a numerous congregation assembled together to hear the opposition, which had been long threatened to be made that day, by Mr. Collier and others of his party, who with the greatest strength the west would afford them, were present at the sermon. Wherein were these five things undeniably proved : i . That a mixture of prophane and scandalous persons with reall saints is not inconsistent with the church of God, or a true church. 2. That then the churches that are now in England are churches of God, and true churches.

3. That then, the ministry of those churches is the ministry of God and the true ministry. 4. That then, there is a great and heavy sin lying at the door of all such as do presume to preach publicly among us, without a call, who have true churches and a settled ministry. 5. And then, they also must needs be guilty who forsake true churches and a lawfull ministry, to follow and hear unsent preachers.

Before the sermon is an epistle and preface, shewing the manner, and a narrative (subjoyned) shewing the substance, of the dispute after the sermon, (both which lasted nine hours). Set forth by the ministers that were at the dispute, and attested under their hands.

Dedicated to his honoured friend collonel John Pine, a member of parliament, and one of the commissioners for the militia of the county of Somerset.

John v, 6. Wilt thou be made whole ? or the virtues and efficacy of the waters of Glastonbury the county of Somerset. Illustrated in above twenty remarkable cases, faithfully described, of persons who by the use of that water have been cured of disorders of the most obstinate and deplorable kinds. Such as the asthma, rheumatism, dropsy, king's evil, deafness, blindness, wens, cancers, ulcers, old swellings, leprosy, &c. These cases being but a few out of a vast number and variety that may be collected are certain facts, and fairly proved, either by the affidavits and handwriting or marks of the persons cured taken in the presence of sensible, honest people who knew them and their cases, both before and after their cure, or by the attestations of the ministers and churchwardens of their respective parishes, or by credible and impartial witnesses living in parts too remote from Glastonbury to have any connexion with the private interests of that place, that should in any sense weaken the sufficiency of their testimony. To which is prefixed a letter of an ingenious and sensible clergyman taken from the Sherbourn and Yeovil Mercury, of the 29 of April last. Collected by an inhabitant of Bath.

America painted to the life a true history of the originall undertakings of the advancement of plantations into these parts, with a perfect relation of our English discoveries, shewing their beginning; progress, and continuance, from the year 1628 to 1658, declaring the forms of their government policies, religions, manners, customes, military discipline, warres with the Indians, the commodities of these countries, a description of their townes and havens, the increase of their trading, with the names of their governours and magistrates. More especially an absolute narrative of the north parts of America and of the discoveries and plantations of our English in new England. Written by sir Ferdinando Gorges, knight, and governour of the fort and island of Plimouth in Devonshire, one of the first and chiefest promoter of these plantations. Publisht since his decease by his grandchild Ferdinando Gorges, esquire, who hath much enlarged it and added severall accurate descriptions of his owne. A work now at last exposed for the publick good to stir up the heroick and active spirits of these times to benefit their country and eternize their names by such honourable attempts. For the readers clearer understanding of the country's they are lively described in a compleat and exquisite map, vivat post funera virtus. 4to., 1658.

14- 3 HODY, HUMPHREY (Odcombe, Merriott). The unreasonableness of a separation from the new bishops ; or, a treatise out of ecclesiastical history. Showing that although a bishop was unjustly deprived, neither he nor the church ever made a separation, if the successor was not a heretick. Translated out of an ancient Greek manuscript in the publick library at Oxford. 4to., 1691.

— An answer to a treatise out of ecclesiastical history translated from an ancient Greek manuscript in the public library at Oxford by Humfrey Hody, B.D., &c., and published under the title of -The unreasonableness of a separation from the new bishops, to shew that although a bishop was unjustly deprived, neither he nor the church ever made a separation if the successor was not a heretick. To which is added the canons in the Baroccian manuscript omitted by Mr. Hody. (By Dr. Bisby.) 4to., 1691.

— A letter from Mr. Humphrey Hody to a friend concerning a collection of canons said to be deceitfully omitted in his edition of the Oxford treatise against schism. In which is likewise contained an offer of certain propositions to be prov'd by the advocates for the new separation. With a vindication of the authority of the civil power in depriving such bishops as refuse to submit to it. 4to., Oxford, 1692.

— A vindication of the deprived bishops, asserting their spiritual r' is against a lay deprivation, against the charge of schism, as managed by the late editors of an anonymous Baroccian MS. In two parts. 1. Showing, that though the instances collected in the said MS. had been pertinent to the editor's design, yet that would not have been sufficient for obtaining their cause. 2. Shewing, that the instances there collected are indeed not pertinent to the editor's design for vindicating the validity of the deprivation of spiritual power by a lay authority. To which is subjoined the latter end of the said MS. omitted by the editor's making against them, and their cause espoused by them. In Greek and English. (By H. Dodwell.) 4to., 1692.

—— The case of the sees vacant by an unjust or uncanonical deprivation stated. In reply to a treatise entituled—A vindication of the deprived bishops, &c. Together with the several other pamphlets lately publish'd as answers to the Baroccian treatise. 4to., 1693.

—— A defence of the vindication of the deprived bishops. Wherein the case of Abiathar is particularly considered, and the invalidity of lay deprivations is further proved, from the doctrine received under the old testament, continued in the first ages of christianity, and from our own fundamental laws. In a reply to Dr. Hody and another author. To which is annexed the doctrine of the church of England concerning the independency of the clergy on the lay power, as to those rights of theirs which are purely spiritual, reconciled with our oath of supremacy and the lay deprivations of the popish bishops in the beginning of the reformation. By the author of the vindication of the deprived bishops. 4to., 1695.

This was seized and suppressed.

—— Historical collections concerning church affairs in which it is shew'd from the ancient church historians, fathers, and other ecclesiastical writers that the right to dispose of bishops, &c., was believed to be subjected to the clergy alone, &c., &c. To which are added some occasional observations upon Dr. Hody's book called—The case of sees vacant by an unjust and uncanonical deprivation, stated. By a presbyter of the church of England. 4to., 1696.

Reflexions on a pamphlet entituled—Remarks on the occasional paper Numb. viii relating to the controversy betwixt Dr. Hody and Mr. Dodwell, and on another entituled—A defence of the vindication of the depriv'd bishops sometime since seized and suppressed by the government and now reprinted. With an answer to a third call'd—Historical collections concerning church affairs. (By Henry Dodwell.) 4to., 1698.

HUMFREY, JOHN (M.A., Frome). An humble vindication of a free admission unto the Lord's supper. Published for the ease, support, and satisfaction of tender consciences (otherwise remedies) in our mixt congregations. As it was delivered at two sermons upon the occasion of this solemnity, in the weekly labours of John Humfrey, M.A., and minister of Froome, in Somersetshire. Newly revised by the author. sm. 8vo., 1651.

SM. 8vo., 1652.

3rd edit., augmented. 121110., 1653.

— A boundary to the holy mount, or a barre against free admission to the Lord's supper. In answer to an humble vindication of free admission to the Lord's supper published by Mr. Humphrey, minister of Frome, in Somersetshire. Which humble vindication, though it profess much piety and conscience, yet, upon due triall and examination is found worthy of suspension, if not of a greater censure. By Roger Drake, minister of Peters Cheap, London.

sm. 8vo., 1653.

— A rejoinder to Mr. Drake or a reply unto his book—a boundary to the holy mount. Which being approach'd is found so dreadfull that the people do exceedingly quake and fear lest they be consumed.

sm. 8vo., 1654.

— A scripture rule to the Lord's table, or observations on Mr. Humphrey's treatise, intituled—An humble vindication of free admission to the Lord's supper. Tending to discover the loose and prophane principles therein suggested. Published for the undeceiving the weak and removing offences occasioned by it in the practice of reformation. Being the result of the discourses of some preachers in the county of Gloucester, near Stow-on-the-Wold, at their weekly meetings. Digested by Anthony Palmer, pastor of the church of Christ at Bourton-on-the-Water.

sm. 8vo., 1654.

— The bar to the free admission to the Lord's supper removed, or a vindication of Mr. Humfrey's free admission to the sacrament of the Lord's supper, wherein the most material exceptions and objections of Dr. Drake against it in his book called—A bar to free admission, &c., are taken off and answered, &c. Whereunto is annexed an expostulatory speech unto them of the congregational way and also an examination of the book called—A scripture rail to the communion table by some ministers in Gloucestershire. - Mediocria or the middle way between protestant and papist in a paper of justification. 2nd edit. with adds. and a letter. 4to., 1695.
A reprint of the four papers on the middle way of 1672, 1673, 1674.
- Pacification touching the doctrinal dissent among our united brethren in London being an answer to Mr. Williams and Mr. Lobb who have appealed in one point (collected for an error) to this author for his determination about it. Together with some other more necessary points falling in. As also that case of non-resistance which hath always been a case of that grand concern to the state and now more especially in regard to our loyalty to King William and association for him, resolved, on the occasion. 48pp. 4to., 1696.
On page 35, line 20, "not " should be inserted—" omitted by the printer to the contradicting the scope of the book."
- The righteousness of God revealed in the gospel or the impartial enquiry into the genuine doctrine of St. Paul, in the great but much contraverted article of justification. 4to., 1697.
- A letter to George Keith, concerning the salvability of the heathen. Together with a testimony to the same doctrine, as long held, and not newly taken up, out of several former books of him that writ it. By his respectful neighbour. 4to., 1700.
- A paper to William Penn, at the departure of that gentleman to his territory, for his perusal in Pennsylvania. Wherein two points are proposed to him concerning the quaker's religion, that he may receive himself conviction, or render to others that are conscientious about them christian satisfaction. The one is their belief of an infallible guidance ; the other is their disuse of the two holy and blessed sacraments. With an occasional dissertation concerning predestination, or God's decree about saving man, in reference to the doctrine of others; and not the quakers only. By a friend unknown. 4to., 1700.
- Letters to parliament men in reference to some proceedings in the House of Commons during the last session continuing to the latter part of June, 1701. Being one, concerning the redress of grievances ; another, concerning the bill for prevention of bribery in corporations ; a third, concerning the dissenters conformity upon occasion of an office ; a fourth, concerning the bill about the succession ; a fifth, concerning comprehension. By a lover of peace and the publick good. (Each letter is signed J. H.) 30pp. and a note, ip. unpag'd. 4to., 1701

The free state of the people of England maintained in the renewed determination of three cases, the first concerning the oath (the non-resistance and passive obedience oath) imposed in the reign of K. Charles ii. The second concerning the association required under K. William. The third concerning the succession. Being a letter to a member of parliament when that bill was in agitation before it was passed ; with a postscript since it passed into an act and the sitting of a new parliament (writ while King William was living but the conclusion when dead) added to it. By one that desires the peace, the union, and the publick good, of England and Scotland both, as one nation and kingdom of Great Britain. 4to., 1702.

Title ; pref. 2pp. ; 26pp., the last signed John Humfrey followed by H). numbered 27. A note in regard to the doctrine of these papers confining our kings and queens of England and Scotland to a government regulated by law. Signed, J. H.

--- A seasonable caution to the members of this new parliament, written and put out against their sitting October 10th, 1702. By one that holds communion with the church. 4to., 1703.

— Three speeches, unspoken in the last session of the parliament, and reserved to the second thoughts of this next. (Anon.) 4to., 1703.

— After consideration for some members of the parliament upon the occasional bill dismiss'd, being a proposal by another to do that business better. With a colloquy tending thereunto. By one that holds communion with that church which is, and will let no other be called the church of England. Preface signed J. H. 4to., 1704.

— Veritas in Semente : being a moderate discourse concerning the principles and practices of the quakers. Written long since (as they then appear'd to the author) in a middle way between them and the followers of orthodox truth, for the making a bridge, that the well-meaning among them might come over to it ; and publish'd now lest that bridge be pull'd down by representation of them at the worst from books of their former writers. Together with two discourses more ; one, of the salvability of the heathen, wherein an agreement ; the other, of two points wherein satisfaction is requir'd of these friends : writ more lately by the same author. 8vo., 1705.

2nd edit., title differing slightly :—To which are prefix'd two letters to a bishop on the salvation of the heathen in defence of the author's thoughts on that subject. 8vo., 1707.

HUMFREY, JOHN. A draught for a national church accommodation, whereby the subjects of England and Scotland however different in their judgments concerning episcopacy and presbytery may yet be united in regard to the queen's headship over both in one church and kingdom of Great Britain. 4to., 170.

— De justificatione : being a letter to a friend, upon a passage in one of the printed sermons of his grace the present archbishop of York. Set forth for the putting a conclusion to the several books and papers written upon this great controverted article. By J. H., aged eighty-five, et supra. 4to., 1706.

There is added :—A postscript in regard to an animadversion of a learned friend, excepting against what I have said, page 18, L 38-39.

— De justificatione Baxteriana coronis ; being a letter to the author of a late small book intituled,—A caveat against high church ; but wrote against the doctrine of justification as maintained by Mr. Baxter and magnified thereupon by many prepossessed in the point. By J. H. 4to., 1707.

— An account of the French prophets, and their pretended inspirations, in three letters sent to John Lacy, esq. By one that is concerned for his friend : a lover of truth and a hater of persecution (with an advertisement at the end about quakers). Lacy was one of the pseudo prophets. 4to., 1708.

— A farther account of our late prophets, in two letters to sir Richard Buckley, which may be added to the three sent to Mr. Lacy. By Mr. Humfrey his neighbour. 8vo., 1708.

— Of the sacramental test. To a member of this parliament who was for the occasional bill in the former when that bill was lost. Being a letter reviv'd upon account of the votes of both houses which by refusing the motion when the test at was propos'd to be put in by name into the act for securing the church, have as it were left it to the consultation of this parliament, which of any yet is most fit to judg (sic) whether it be conducive to the benefit or hurt of Great Britain. 2pp. ss., fol., 1708.

— A draught for a national church accommodation whereby the subjects of north and south Britain however different in their judgments concerning episcopacy and presbytery may yet be united in regard to the queen's headship over both in one church as well as kingdom of Great Britain. (Anon.) 8vo., 1709.

— Free thoughts upon these heads. Predestination ; redemption ; the salvability of the heathen ; judaical covenant ; justification ; the judge of faith and the scripture ; venial sin ; liturgical and conceived prayer ; demonstrative preaching ; the authority of the laws of men ; the power of the magistrate about religion ; subjection to our present queen. By John Humfrey, born in Jan., 1620, aged now past 89 years. Not intending a common place upon any one of them but to say something only to supply what is wanting to be said or if said already by him to cultivate it and save all other editions. 4to., 1710.

— A seasonable suggestion arising from the grateful reflexion upon her majesties resolution, the lords agreement, and the commons determination on it, to let the dissenters quietly enjoy that indulgence which the law hath allowed them to improve our union. Set forth that the concern so momentous should come into the consideration of the legislature when business gives leisure and time serves it in this present or another future session of parliament. (Anon.) 8vo., 1711.

— Free thoughts continu'd upon several points. Of predestination. Of redemption. Of the salvability of the heathen. Of the judicial covenant. Of justification. Of the judge of faith and the scripture. Of venial sin. Of liturgical and conceived prayer. Of demonstrative preaching. Of the authority of the laws of men. Of the power of the magistrate about religion. Of subjection to our present queen. Unto which are added—Of free electing grace. Of this grace its irresistibility. Of God's will, decree, and providence, in regard to sin. Of faith and works. Of the believer's union with Christ. Of justifying righteousness. Of the thirteenth to the Romans. Which points being writ after the other they are put together in the second publication. By a grave author of middle and unparty principles. 4to., 1712.

The first part has 64pp. The second part entitled—Peace in has a separate paging, 2opp. ; followed by 4pp. again a separate pagination, entitled—A close to these points of controversy. Signed John Humfrey, aged, Jan., 1712, 92.
